

MANAGED DATA DETECTION AND RESPONSE (MDDR)

24x7x365 protection for your most critical asset: your data.

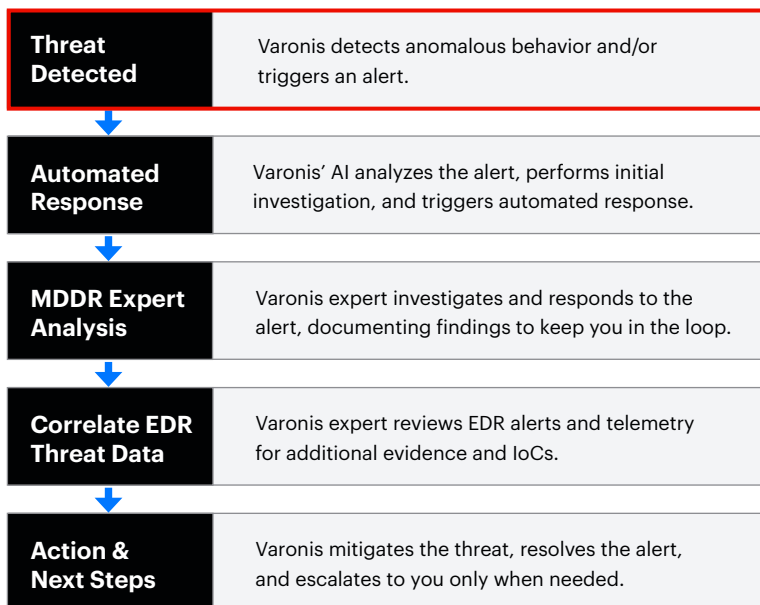

CHALLENGE

Companies pay millions for threat detection products and services, yet when an incident occurs, they struggle to answer the most important question, "Was this a material data breach?" Data blindness is why organizations with advanced security stacks can fall victim to breaches from insider threats and attackers that bypass endpoint and network controls, targeting data at the source.

SOLUTION

Varonis Managed Data Detection and Response (MDDR) is the world's first managed service for monitoring and protecting critical data with a 24x7x365 SLA. MDDR combines Varonis' industry-leading threat detection technology with a world-class team of elite threat hunters, forensics analysts, and incident responders. Our team triages, investigates, and responds to every Varonis alert, so you don't have to.

How MDDR Works

Monthly Security Posture Assessments

KEY BENEFITS

Up and running in hours, not days or weeks

24x7 communication

Dedicated data security expert

Covers data in the cloud and on-premises

"The investment we've made in Varonis has been immeasurable in finding and stopping cyberattacks. The Varonis team proactively reaches out to me with true incidents, rather than just surfacing more alerts for my team to manage."

SCOTT MERCER

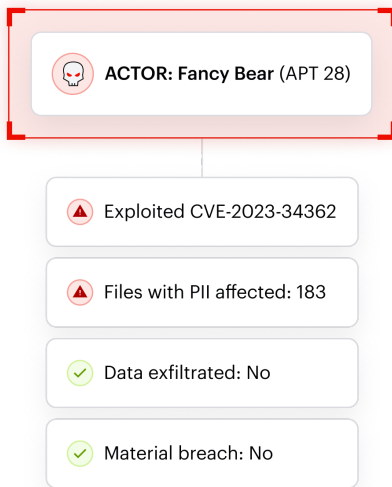

Director, Cybersecurity and Technical Services, KU Endowment

Industry-best SLA

Varonis MDDR offers an industry-best 30-minute guarantee to investigate ransomware attacks and a 120-minute guarantee for all other alert investigations. MDDR also includes proactive threat hunting and monthly security posture assessments to ensure your data security is always improving.
